DEAN, SCHOOL OF MUSIC

We acknowledge that the lands on which Memorial University's campuses are situated are in the traditional territories of diverse Indigenous groups, and we acknowledge with respect the diverse histories and cultures of the Beothuk, Mi'kmaq, Innu, and Inuit of this province. Learn more about the territory acknowledgement here.

Memorial University is home to Atlantic Canada's largest and most comprehensive School of Music. With 26 faculty, 12 staff and approximately 150 undergraduate and graduate students, Memorial University's School of Music is big enough to offer an array of programs, courses, and ensembles but small enough that each student receives the individual mentorship they need to flourish. At the undergraduate level, the School offers a Bachelor of Music degree and joint Bachelor of Music/Bachelor of Commerce degree, with concentrations in performance, musicologies, theory, composition, jazz studies and music education. At the graduate level, the School offers Master of Music programs (conducting, performance, performance/pedagogy) and M.A. and Ph.D. programs in ethnomusicology, which attract students from across the globe. Offering the only university music program in the province, the School's faculty of 26 performers, composers, and scholars enjoy international reputations in their fields and are active partners across the province's vibrant musical, artistic, and cultural communities. In addition to an internationally renowned faculty, the School boasts major research centres including the Research Centre for the Study of Music, Media, & Place (MMaP), and the state-of-the-art Memorial Electro-Acoustic Research Laboratory (MEARL).

Memorial University invites applications for the position of Dean, School of Music. Reporting to the Provost and Vice-President (Academic), and as a senior member of Memorial's leadership team, the Dean of the School of Music will lead the School in enhancing its excellence in performance, research and education, and in acquiring resources to support the continuing successes of its students, faculty, programs and outreach activities. Responsible for managing human, financial and physical resources, the Dean will ensure creative and effective allocation of resources in support of the School's priorities. Memorial is seeking a visionary, innovative and collaborative leader who will define a clear strategic direction, champion an equitable, inclusive and accessible environment, and be the School's foremost ambassador. Strengthening and enhancing community engagement, interdisciplinary relationships, and internal and external partnerships, the Dean will celebrate and promote music education, performance, scholarship, creative activity and interdisciplinary work. The Dean will lead revitalized student recruitment and retention initiatives, innovative program change, and further distinguish the School of Music and its integral relationship with the province's artistic community.

The Search Committee recognizes that while no one candidate is likely to meet all qualifications in equal measure, the ideal candidate for Dean will possess a record of successful leadership and management in a university or professional setting and a demonstrated academic record as an educator and researcher. The successful candidate must have a doctorate or other generally accepted terminal degree in music or related field with preference for achievement commensurate with a tenured appointment at the rank of Professor. The ideal candidate will have: proven skills in developing and executing strategic directions; a visionary leadership style characterized by collegial, collaborative and innovative approaches; a commitment to student engagement and supports; and an understanding of contemporary music schools and the forces affecting the landscape of music. Memorial University seeks a Dean who brings demonstrated success and commitment to incorporating equity, diversity, inclusion, anti-racism (EDI-AR) and Indigenization principles in leadership, teaching and/or scholarship and have experience promoting an inclusive and accessible culture for students, staff and faculty members. They will have a record of building relationships across institutions, community groups and organizations. The successful candidate will be passionate about music and have the ability to advocate for the School, finding creative approaches to secure resources to meet the strategic directions of the School of Music.
