TEACHING TERM APPOINTMENT
School of Pharmacy
Memorial University of Newfoundland
(Two 12-month Teaching Appointments)
One position beginning January 2027 and one beginning March 2027)

About the School of Pharmacy

Memorial University's School of Pharmacy offers the Entry-to-Practice Doctor of Pharmacy (PharmD) program and graduate programs. With a strong sense of community and a supportive learning environment, it offers an engaging and collaborative educational environment that prepares students for diverse careers in pharmacy practice, research, and education.

The School of Pharmacy is located in the Health Sciences Centre on the campus of Memorial University. This facility also houses the Faculty of Medicine, Faculty of Nursing, the Health Sciences Library, the General Hospital, the Janeway Children's Health and Rehabilitation Centre, and the Mental Health and Addictions Centre. This integrated complex has fostered close working relationships in both research and teaching among the Faculties of Medicine, Nursing, and Pharmacy.

Memorial University is one of the largest universities in Atlantic Canada. As the province's only university, Memorial plays an integral role in the education and cultural life of Newfoundland and Labrador. Offering diverse undergraduate and graduate programs to more than 17,000 students, Memorial provides a distinctive, stimulating learning environment in St. John's, a safe, friendly city with great historic charm, a vibrant cultural life, and easy access to a wide range of outdoor activities.

The Opportunity

Applications are invited for two Teaching Term Appointments at Memorial University's School of Pharmacy. The level of appointment will be commensurate with the applicant's qualifications (Lecturer or Teaching Assistant Professor).

The successful candidates will be responsible for coordinating and teaching in the undergraduate PharmD program. Primary teaching responsibilities will include pharmacy practice (e.g., dispensing, evidence-based medicine, oral and written communication, patient assessment, including physical assessment, patient-centred care, patient safety, and prescribing), pharmacotherapy, interprofessional collaboration, and other areas within the PharmD curriculum, commensurate with the candidate's knowledge and experience. Opportunities for direct patient care and focused student supervision may also be available.

Qualifications and Experience

Successful candidates must be licensed with the College of Pharmacy of Newfoundland and Labrador or be eligible for licensure and obtain licensure within three months of their appointment. Practice experience in community, primary care, and/or hospital pharmacy is required. A PharmD degree and previous teaching experience in an educational setting would be considered assets. An equivalent combination of education, training, and experience may be considered.

Appointment and Application Details

Two 12-month term appointments are available, with one position commencing in January 2027 and the other in March 2027. The application deadline is November 20, 2026, at 5:00 p.m. NST. Applicants should submit a letter of interest, a curriculum vitae, and the names and contact information (including email addresses) of three references, quoting Job Reference Number PHA03693, by clicking here to apply:
